MARKET REPORT

Your definitive guide to real estate activity, pricing trends, and market intelligence within one of Boca Raton's most coveted waterfront addresses.

A TRUSTED PARTNERSHIP FOR OUR COMMUNITY

Daniel Schultz is pleased to introduce Matt Gelling as his partner in serving the Yacht & Racquet Club of Boca Raton community. Together, their focus remains aligned with the interests of residents: protecting property values, strengthening future comparable sales, and providing informed guidance within one of Boca Raton's most unique waterfront communities.

DANIEL SCHULTZ

A resident of YARCOBR and Realtor with The Keyes Company, Daniel has developed a reputation for his hyper-local knowledge of the community and his commitment to preserving and enhancing property values. Through his market reports, community involvement, and real estate expertise, Daniel strives to help residents make informed decisions while promoting the long-term success of the community.

MATT GELLING

Originally from New York, Matt moved to Florida with his family and attended Florida Atlantic University. He built a successful leadership career with Circuit City and Apple, managing large teams and operations before transitioning into real estate. As a second-generation Realtor with more than 35 years of family involvement in the industry, Matt brings strong negotiation skills, marketing expertise, and a client-first approach to every transaction.

COASTAL BOCA MARKET

The broader coastal Boca Raton condominium market remained active over the past year, with 220 condominium sales recorded in ZIP codes 33431 and 33432. The median condominium sold for approximately $1.19 million, with a median price of roughly $629 per square foot.

YARCOBR VALUE

Within YARCOBR, the average condominium sold for $635,071, or approximately $489 per square foot, demonstrating that our community continues to offer a compelling waterfront lifestyle at a significantly more attainable price point than many neighboring coastal properties.

MARKET TIMING

Although average asking prices at YARCOBR remain above recent closed sales, properties that are competitively priced, well-presented, and updated continue to attract buyers. With an average marketing time of 98 days, YARCOBR homes are selling slightly faster than the broader coastal condominium market, which averaged approximately 112 days on market.

DANIEL'S MARKET TAKE

One statistic caught my attention this month. While YARCOBR continues to offer one of the best waterfront values in Boca Raton, average marketing time has improved to 83 days. That tells me well-priced, well-presented properties are still attracting buyers despite a more competitive market.

KEY TAKEAWAY

“YARCOBR continues to provide one of Boca Raton's strongest waterfront values—offering an exceptional lifestyle, solid demand, and faster sales than the broader coastal condominium market.”

All statistics are based on closed sales in ZIP codes 33431 and 33432 over the past 12 months.

CHICKEE BAR

One of YARCOBR's Most Popular Amenities

Nearly half of all respondents visit the Chickee Bar 2–3 times every week, reinforcing its importance as one of YARCOBR's most valued community amenities.

KEY COMMUNITY INSIGHTS

Residents overwhelmingly value what makes YARCOBR unique—its waterfront lifestyle, private beach, marina, tropical setting, and strong sense of community. Many respondents described the community itself as the primary reason they chose to purchase here.

The survey also identified several recurring themes for future improvement. The most frequently mentioned suggestions included enhancing the Chickee Bar dining experience, modernizing common areas, limiting major renovations during the peak season, expanding guest amenities such as showers and lockers, and continuing to improve communication between residents, management, and the Board.

Overall, the survey reflects a community that is proud of where it lives and eager to see thoughtful investments that preserve YARCOBR's unique character while enhancing the resident experience.

Thank you

Thank you to everyone who participated in our first Community Pulse™ survey.

Your opinions matter.

Future Community Pulse™ surveys will allow us to measure trends over time and help identify opportunities to preserve and enhance both our quality of life and property values. Our next Community Pulse™ survey will be conducted this fall, allowing residents to measure changes in community priorities and satisfaction over time.

Community Pulse™ is intended to provide residents with anonymous insights into our community. Individual survey responses are never published or attributed to any resident.
