Pricing correctly from day one remains one of the most important factors affecting successful sales within YARCOBR.

The highest sale reflects a townhouse transaction at 2717 N Ocean Blvd, while the 7 units sold after more than 121 days include the $365,000 G105 sale; together they underscore the range of outcomes in the current market.

WHAT THIS DATA TELLS US

Inventory remains limited, with nearly as many units pending as actively listed. Recent sales also highlight the importance of proper pricing and presentation. Homes that are priced realistically and marketed effectively continue to achieve stronger outcomes, helping support property values throughout the community.

Every transaction within YARCOBR sets a precedent for the next. In a market where buyer selectivity is rising and days on market are stretching, disciplined execution at every stage of the selling process is not optional — it is essential. Daniel Schultz and Matt Gelling are committed to ensuring that every listing they represent elevates the community's overall value profile.

PROTECTING LONG-TERM PROPERTY VALUES

Proper pricing and professional marketing help maximize value and reduce unnecessary time on market."

STRENGTHENING FUTURE COMPARABLE SALES

Every successful sale helps establish stronger comparable values for future sellers."

POSITIONING YARCOBR COMPETITIVELY

"Promoting the unique lifestyle and advantages of YARCOBR helps attract qualified buyers and strengthen demand."

As residents and advocates of the Yacht & Racquet Club community, our goal is simple: help homeowners make informed decisions while supporting the long-term value and reputation of this exceptional waterfront community.
